Spring 2013

SPRING CONFERENCE AT DUCHESNE HIGH SCHOOL
SATURDAY, MARCH 9, 2013

As CLA President, Joanne C. Vogel puts it, "We've planned a great day filled with opportunities to celebrate, learn, eat, connect and collaborate!"

SO JOIN US AT DUCHESNE!!

In the fall of 1924, St. Peter High School opened its doors to a class of 14 students. It would have been difficult for them to imagine that the tiny parish school on Clay Street in the small town of St. Charles would one day become a college preparatory school of several hundred students, called Duchesne Catholic High School.

St. Peter became a four-year school in 1929, and, in 1934, with an enrollment approaching 100, was accredited by the State of Missouri. Although most of the students were from the parish grade school, teens from the neighboring St. Charles Borromeo parish, as well as parishes in surrounding communities, also attended St. Peter High School because of its reputation for a quality Catholic education.

By the 1950s, the flourishing St. Charles population pushed St. Peter High School to maximum capacity, and the need for a regional Catholic high school to serve the broader community was evident. In 1956, a new high school was built at our current location, and was named in honor of Blessed Rose Philippine Duchesne. Philippine was a religious of the Society of the Sacred Heart who arrived in the pioneer settlement of St. Charles in 1818, and dedicated herself to the education of the French and Indian children on the American frontier. Philippine opened the first free school west of the Mississippi. Canonized on July 3, 1988, she became St. Philippine, a model of perseverance, humility, patience and devotion to the service of God through the education of the young.

While the school's physical structure of today bears little resemblance to its parent school, the commitment to educational excellence in a faith-filled atmosphere is as strong today as it was when St. Peter High welcomed its first class more than 80 years ago.

President's Message – Joanne C. Vogel

Register now for our annual Spring Conference!! On Saturday, March 9, we are going to Duchesne High School in St. Charles where Sharon Ziegler, Duchesne's librarian, is hosting this year's conference. Our day begins with Mass, continental breakfast, and visits to our vendors. We've planned a great day filled with opportunities to celebrate, learn, eat, connect and collaborate, and win one of our beautiful baskets!

COPYRIGHT is the focus of this year's conference because copyright is an everyday function in our professional lives as librarians and archivists. The way we create, find, access, and use library resources has changed drastically. Do we really understand copyright in this digital and media rich environment? Erika Cohn, a lawyer librarian at Saint Louis University Law Library, is going to help us understand copyright and what we can and cannot do for our patrons, teachers, students, and all those whom we serve. We're going to have fun and lively discussions as we explore the issues and answer copyright questions submitted by some of our Chapter members.

John Waide is this year's Fons Sapientiae Awardee and I am thrilled that we are honoring my longtime friend and colleague. John has been the University Archivist for Saint Louis University since 1989. Last year at our Spring Conference, we all enjoyed John's presentation about the impact of the Civil War on St. Louis Catholics and Saint Louis University. John is a wonderful storyteller and is frequently interviewed by local media personalities when they want or need information about St. Louis and Saint Louis University.

Be sure to vote for our new Executive Board members. Our Chapter's Executive Board works very hard to provide interesting and educational programs for our Sections and membership. Their biographies and your ballot appear in this newsletter. Our new officers and board members will be introduced at the annual business meeting following the luncheon. Keep in mind that you can always contact our board members with ideas for programs and any questions or concerns you may have about CLA. Last year, we offered a Certificate of Attendance for conference attendees and we are pleased to offer it again this year. We also hope you will fill out our evaluation form at the conference. Your input helps us plan our annual programs.

The conference registration form is included in this newsletter and is also available on our Chapter's website (<http://www.stlcla.org/>). Duchesne High School is easy to find and very detailed directions are available on their website. I hope to see all of you at Duchesne High School on Saturday, March 9.

Fifth Annual Basket Raffle

We are happy to announce the basket raffle will again make an appearance! Baskets filled with books, edibles, knick-knacks, and goodies will be available to win.

Chances are $1.00 each or six for $5.00.

Maybe your sweet tooth will take over and you'll have an urge to make some ice cream or gelato? Whatever you decide to do, do it while the birds in your yard enjoy their new birdhouse and birdbath!
